THE WAR.

Steady advance of the Turks.

The Turkish army in Europe.

The Sultan's terms for Greece.

Execution of Anarchists.

Fighting in the Philippines.

Madrid, 4th—Telegrams from Manila report that the military operations against the rebels are giving excellent results. The Spanish troops, under General Primo de Rivera in person, to-day captured the town of Naie to the south of Cavite after a severe fight. The town was defended by a considerable number of rebels under Aguinaldo. The squadron aided the Royal troops in dislodging the rebels, killing a good number of them. Many rebels were made prisoners and the rest fled in great disorder leaving behind them a number of arms and quantities of ammunition. The despatches received add this fight was one of the bloodiest in the war, and will exercise a powerful influence towards the pacification of the Archipelago

Barcelona, 4th—The five Anarchists, sentenced to death for the attempt made in Calle Nuevos Cambios some time ago, were shot this morning at 6 o'clock in the Yard of Montjuich Prison. The five men died without flinching and their last words were "Viva la Anarquia". An enormous crowd of people was standing outside the prison but the watch kept on them by the police prevented any disturbance.

Paris, 4th—There is a persistent rumour that Turkey will refuse to make peace with Greece until her troops enter Athens. The Sublime Port is moreover determined to keep Thessaly and claim a heavy indemnity from the Grecian Government. This news is much commented on here, and it is believed that the Great Powers will never allow the Sultan to carry out his project.

Rome, 4th—The Chamber of Deputies was reopened this afternoon. All the members were present. The Prime Minister declared that the unsuccessful attempt made by Acciarito to murder King Humbert served to prove the great affection the people entertained towards their Sovereign. The Premier then asked for a loan to improve the police service. The House will consider it once the project for reorganising the army has been discussed.

St. Petersburg, 4th—The leading papers of this city say that Greece now sees that she cannot fight Turkey, and must sue for peace! and the recall of Colonel Vassos from Crete is the prelude to the withdrawal of the Greek troops from the island, and a proof that the new Greek Premier, Ralli, wishes to make peace.

Aberdeen, 4th—The steamers Girnigol and Collynie collided last night in this port. The latter was sunk; her captain was saved, while the crew of eleven men were drowned.

London, 4th—There is no change in quotation of Argentine Bonds. Demand is small. Nevertheless, there is a firmness in present prices.

Athens, 4th—The Ministers returned last night from Pharsalia. They resolved at a special Council, at which King George was present, to pospone the celebration to-morrow of St. George's day, Patron Saint of the King. This resolution was adopted for fear that the customary fetes might give rise to disturbances.

Constantinople, 4th—The news that General Edhem Pasha had asked the Greek General for an armistice is officially denied.

Athens, 4th—There was no fight yesterday in the neighbourhood of Pharsalia, but the Turks have been sending numerous small flying columns to reconnoitre the ground. It is therefore presumed that they will not delay in provoking battle.

Paris, 4th—Henri Louis Tolain, the Radical Senator, died this morning at the age of 69. He was one of the founders of the International Society of Workmen.

London, 4th—According to telegrams just received from the seat of war, there is great activity amongst the Turkish forces, which are at the present moment preparing for a fresh attack on Velestina.

Constantinople, 4th—The Turkish army in Europe will be increased until it reaches 500,000 men.

Awful catastrophe in Paris.

Fire in a charity Bazaar.

200 persons trampled and burnt to death

Principally women and children.

Appalling scenes.

Paris, 4th—A fearful fire broke out at 4 o'clock this afternoon in a Charity Bazaar, organised in Rue Jean Goujon, here. The building was totally destroyed in a few hours. Thirty carbonized bodies have been discovered under the ruins. The bodies are at present lying on the pavement opposite the remains of the building. Thirty-five people—amongst them being several firemen—are seriously hurt. Many people are still missing. The catastrophe has caused a very painful sensation all over the city. An enormous crowd is at present at the scene of the fire.

Paris, 4th—The fire in the Charity Bazaar in the Rue Jean Goujon has been now finally extinguished. The number of victims is much larger than at first stated, and it is feared that 200 persons have perished and 150 seriously injured. The corpses are all embedded in the ruins. The Police and Fire Brigade are working hard to get them out from the debris. The fire was due to the imprudence of one of the public present, and several women and children were crushed to death. Some men blew their brains out to avoid being burned alive. The fire spread so rapidly to the stalls and kiosks that when the Fire Brigade arrived the whole building was a furnace, most of the victims were women, and amongst them many young ones and ladies of aristocratic families. Amongst the injured the Duchess de la Torre and Princess Kotchoubey are not expected to survive. The dreadful affair has caused public consternation.

Paris, 4th—Amongst the victims in the fire at the Charity Bazaar are the Marchioness de Gallifet, the Countess Mun, the Duchess of Alençon and General Munier.

THIS MORNING'S TELEGRAMS.

(Received after Midnight.)

Constantinople, 4th—The Government of the Sultan has resolved to raise to 300,000 the number of the Turkish army in Europe on a peace-footing—at least so says the Press of the Capital.

Athens, 4th—It is announced officially that Trikkala was this afternoon evacuated by the Turkish garrison and that a Greek force is marching to occupy it.

Vienna, 4th—A telegram from Athens announces the return thither from Crete of Col. Vassos and his immediate departure for Epirus to assume the command of the army hitherto under the orders of Col. Manos. It is also stated that Col. Metaxas has been appointed to the command of the brigade led by Col. Makris, the defender of Larrissa.

A MINISTERIAL VALEDICTORY.

Engineer Villanueva, as he tendered his resignation and fell from his exalted post as Minister of War, could not resist the temptation of unbosoming himself, and he has done it to the great delight of the public. The ex-Minister's valedictory is one of those human weaknesses on a par with the intense, intimate, and pardonable effusions that some concentrated minds devote to the pages of a domestic diary. It is always better to keep these indulgences private, for when they court publicity they invite unmerciful criticism.

The public were quite satisfied to know that after a most excellent term of office, full of services and of reforms, the Minister of War succumbed to the wholesale opposition of the leaders in the Army, in the Navy, and, we may add, in Congress. As we write, we have to our right his Report on the War and Navy Office for 1896, on our left his valedictory: one can hardly believe that both are written by one and the same person. The Report, intended for the public, is a terse, business-like document, showing the enormous amount of work done by the Minister: the valedictory is a weak and nervous outburst that should never have been published.

We confess to a certain eagerness to measure the ex minister by his report, though we cannot lose sight of the fact that it is the result of collective ability in which General Capdevila and Colonel Garcia have their share; we regret that only too many will prefer to judge the Minister by his valedictory which is entirely his own, essentially individual.

Mr. Villanueva, by publishing his letter to President Uriburu, takes the public into his confidence, and endeavours to prove that he falls from his ministerial chair owing to political causes. The public are scanning the horizon and fail to detect, even with the strongest partizan glasses any trace of that political enmity: yet the nearest sighted can see the ferment in army and navy, a mighty ebullition caused by the Minister in his dealings with the two services. At a moment when the country at large is firmly convinced that President Uriburu and his Cabinet are essentially an administrative Executive, equidistant from all political factions, the retiring Minister attempts to shake this belief and poses as a victim to partizan intrigue.

"Credat apella." The public can judge for themselves of the intrinsic merits of such a charge against the National Executive and of the motives that prompted engineer Villanueva to make such a sensational annonncement. The valedictory, however, couched as it is in the most measured terms, leans more to the true and apparent causes of this Cabinet crisis, when its distinguished author confesses his dread of the action of Congress. We can very well appreciate the doubts and anxieties that must have harassed the Ministerial mind at the prospects of an interpellation in the Senate or the Deputies, backed up by the extraordinary discontent in Army and Navy. Engineer Villanueva did not care to face the music, with the antecedents of Minister Romero's discomfiture so fresh in his mind. But it would have been more statesmanlike, more manly, more decorous if, when confessing his weakness, he had not stooped to catechise his master—the President.

Engineer Villanueva should have resisted the temptation of upbraiding—in the most urbane language, no doubt—President Uriburu. Recriminations from a fallen statesman are always sorry literature, but the public delights in these exhibitions of weakness and gloats over a valedictory that takes the Chief Magistrate to task for the weakness of his character and of his Government. President Uriburu's is not what can be termed a strong Government, nor does the President wish to court the opposition of a majority in Congress, or of political parties for the sheer pleasure of keeping a minister in power. At best, the valedictory of Engineer Villanueva is an outcome of disappointment, and it is to be regretted that a Minister, with such a splendid record in the War Office, should at the last moment have dimmed his reputation for energy and ability by signing a document that proclaims his weakness, not to say his break-down, as a public man. Silence should heve accompanied him as he left the gilded parlours of the Government-House: he left behind him sufficient proofs of his work to establish his reputation: indiscretion, alas! leads the public to think of the lath painted to look like iron.

THE WAR IN EUROPE.

The advance of the Turks continues, and the Greeks are falling back. If the Powers do not interfere, Edhem Pacha will soon be breakfasting in Athens. We can now see that the cable reports of the triumph of the Greeks at Pharsalus, Valestina and Volo were very much exaggerated, or devoid altogether of foundation, for, according to yesterday's intelligence, the Turks are marching from Valestina on Volo. At the same time a Turkish division, under Hakki Pasha, is marching on the same town from another point. The fall of Volo is, therefore, a foregone conclusion. These advancing forces are being strengthened by the arrival of reinforcements.

The Athenian papers are endeavouring to rouse European indignation, and thus provoke European interference, by describing the most awful scenes of Turkish atrocity. They say that the Turks in Thessaly committed every kind of outrage, respecting neither age nor sex, and mutilating the wounded. Of course, such reports are false. It has been observed by the different war correspondents that the Turks have treated their prisoners and wounded with great kindness and humanity.

It is reported that King George is suffering from heart disease, and that within the last few days he has been repeatedly prostrated by fits. His doctors advise him to withdraw temporarily from business and take a good rest. The Royal family, are, it appears, in dread of being murdered by the populace, whose feelings have been worked up to a high degree of excitement by the news of the repeated defeats of Prince Constantine. Of the latter, nevertheless, it is said that he behaved with the pluck of a soldier at Milonas, and was not the least afraid of the Turkish bullets.

The Rappel has caused a sensation in Paris by stating that Germany has brought on the Turkish war, with the idea of breaking up the alliance between France and Russia. The editor of the Rappel is M. de Lanessan, formerly Governor of Indo-China. He is a recognised authority on questions of international policy, and hence the sensation.

Whilst the Athenian mob yells out "Down with Europeans," we note that hundreds of volunteers are making their way to Greece to fight against the Turks. Ricciotti Garibaldi has 2,000 men under him. Several Italian Socialist deputies, including the famous de Felice, have pitched politics to the dogs and taken to the field to defend the cause of Greece. These bellicose representatives are said to be at present in Pharsalus, in command of battalions of volunteers.

In Volo and Arta anarchy prevails. In the first mentioned there are 18,000 Reserves without arms or ammunition. Panic has seized the population in the country districts. The Minister of War is at present in Pharsalus.

We are requested to announce that a Proclamation was issued on the 3rd inst by Her Majesty the Queen enjoining her subjects to observe strict neutrality in the present state of war between Turkey and Greece.

This Proclamation is similar to one which was issued in regard to the war between China and Japan, of which a copy can be inspected at the British Consulate.

LONDON LETTER

SIR JOHN WILLOUGHBY AS A WITNESS.

(From our own Correspondent).

April 2nd.

When the Crown Prince left Athens for the front a week ago people thought war between Greece and Turkey was imminent. To-day it is a question of King George going to the front, and when he goes they say it will be as good as a declaration of war. The blockade of the Piræus is "billed" for Sunday, but the public has been so often disappointed we have almost ceased to read the announcements supplied by news' agencies. The concert of Europe is the butt of the streets. Not an hour ago I found myself in common with a ragged gamin looking at a newspaper placard. Wiping his nose with his coat sleeve and squinting up at me, the unwashed but intelligent lad asked—"Isn't the Cretan question a bit mucked up?" After that I was determined not to write one word about it until we received more definite information. Fortunately there is material enough for a short letter on our domestic politics, which are quite as much "mucked up" as the Government's foreign policy, but as long as we have any parliament at all, and any opposition to speak of, the obscurantism of the Government is occasionally penetrated. The two most dexterous and persistent prodders of Government mysteries are Mr. Tim Healy and Mr. Labouchere. One thing I have to speak about is not a question of landlord-grabbing on a large scale, agricultural rates, class legislation, or even of what Lord Kimberley, at the National Liberal Club, called "clerical domination," it was a little thing called "Kingstown Harbour Roads Transfer Bill." Upon Mr. Hanbury moving the second reading, up rose Mr. Tim Healy and said: "That is only a Treasury swindle." The Speaker objected to the expression as unparliamentary, but Mr. Healy insisted that he had used it not in reference to any individual but to the British Treasury, which had constantly swindled Ireland. The Hon. gentleman refused to withdraw it at the repeated request of the Speaker because, as he said, the Irish members had been done out of their rights the night previous. He meant that, as I have said in another letter, the Irish Nationalists had voluntarily abstained from speaking on the Financial Relations question, they had not had the opportunity of speaking, as Mr. Balfour had cut short the debate. Healy had his revenge. The Speaker finally withdrew the term "unparliamentary" and substituted "disorderly expression." Mr. Healy with all his secret reasonability gave way. But he was not done with. He went on to show that the Treasury owed £700 to the Kingstown Corporation, and that they sought to pay their creditors by casting on them the burden of lighting and keeping in repair a Treasury road. He wondered that the Treasury had not pleaded the Statute of Limitations (laughter). With all its menagerie of "whereases," the Bill said no more about the management of Kingstown Harbour than it did about the government of Japan (laughter). Were the Treasury not ashamed of themselves? (renewed laughter). He could only describe this Bill as the essence of Treasury meanness and Treasury shabbiness. (Nationalist cheers). In this year of the Diamond Jubilee they gave Ireland this little birthday present (laughter)—the expense of maintaining, repairing, lighting, and watering this road. The Irish people wanted nothing from England; they were content to run their own little country if the English would only show their heels. They would be satisfied to control their own affairs in their own vulgar, Irish way, and to leave John Bull to his bombardments and his Concert of Europe (laughter).

After sundry divisions for adjournments and what not, Mr. Healy found some other objection to the Bill and the Speaker objected to the word "alleged," as casting an imputation on the Secretary for the Treasury. Mr. Healy did not quite see why he should withdraw the word "alleged" which was not offensive, but in his desire to be always in order he agreed to substitute the word "postulated." The House of course roared with laughter, for it was in a good humour, and it rather likes Mr. Healy as the wittiest and cleverest of the Nationalists. Finally Mr. Arthur Balfour joined in the fray, and the end of it was he had to give in to Mr. Healy and tear up the Bill in a pet. So the hon. gentleman single handed vanquished the Treasury and the Speaker into the bargain.

The next thing on the list is more serious. The day before yesterday Mr. Chamberlain, as Secretary for the Colonies, made a brilliant speech at the banquet of the Colonial Institute at the Hotel Metropole. There was a crowd of lords at the assembly, contrasting badly with the dinner given at the National Liberal Club at the other side of the street, where poor Lord Kimberley was supported by only one peer, all the others who had been invited being on a journey, or about to marry a wife, or had the influenza or something. Since goldfields came up the ship of State seems to be lop-sided. The cargo shifts, or every one seems to sneak to one side. We hope there will be no capsizing, for the gold will sink, while only Honour, Liberty and other decklumber can float. Mr. Chamberlain, the Apostle of Imperialism, has no misgivings. He beautifully sketched the stages of the evolution of the colonial idea. Colonies in the last century he said were looked upon as sources of plunder by the mother country. In the middle of this century they began to be looked upon as incumbrances. To-day the budding idea has flowed into the noble conception of Imperial Federation. He said something too about new markets and the salvation of the souls and of some of the bodies—not many—of what his chief calls "blacks". Almost at the same hour the banquet was taking place at the Hotel Metropole, Sir John Willoughby was released from Holloway gaol. To-day he appeared as a witness at the South Africa Committee.

THE UNITED STATES' TARIFF.

The telegram stating that the Dingley Tariff Bill that has passed the House and is now being considered in the Senate will probably be passed by the latter body by a large majority of votes, taken in connection with the latest news by mail touching on this subject, may well be calculated to banish all hope, if any still existed, among our wool growers of obtaining more favourable duties than those already announced in these columns, as fixed by the House of Representatives.

Washington advices as late as the 9th April inform us that great pressure was then being brought to bear on the Senate Finance Committee, that then had the House Bill under consideration, not only to retain the duties named in the Dingley schedules, but even to increase many of them. Western senators, claiming that protection has heretofore meant protection for Eastern industries, now demand protection for their part of the country, not only for manufacturing interests but for agricultural as well. Not only do the duties in the raw wool schedule of the Dingley Bill fail to satisfy some of them, but the extremists wish to double those duties.

Senator Chandler, of New Hampshire, however much of a "jingo" he may be, speaks sensibly on this subject; the Western extremists, he says, will provoke a reaction that will kill the Bill if they persist in their course; to which Senator Warren, of Wyoming, replies: "the Bill will fail, and ought to fail, if it does not equitably recognize agricultural, mining, lumber and other Western interests."

Senators Mantle, of Montana; McBride, of Oregon; Wilson, of Washington; Hansbrough, of N. Dakota, and Stewart, of Nevada, all insist on special protection for special Western products. Senator Stewart refuses to vote for any Bill that does not place a duty on hides, Wilson wants to put a duty on coal, lead ore and pig lead, while Mantle, who favors the ideas of some of his Western colleagues, demands principally a large increase in the duty on raw wools.

New England, which is a great shoe manufacturing section and contains the principal wollen mills, opposes the duty on hides and a high duty on wool. The twelve New England Senators are, however, not at all united on these points. One of them, speaking before the Finance Committee, said:—"Do not be deterred by outside clamour, high duties are right. They will bring prosperity to the country and credit to the Senate."

At the date mentioned the Finance Committee was hard at work on the Bill all day and much of the night. Two leading members—Senators Allison and Aldrich—strongly favour a conservative tariff, but acknowledge that the fate of the Bill rests with the minority, and the minority members will insist on the protection of particular industries as the price of their votes for the Bill as a whole, and this applies to the Silverites as well as others.

It is possible that some of the extremists have modified their ideas, or that the majority in favour of the Bill is so much larger than was expected, that they can to a certain extent be ignored—for we note that the telegram mentions a large majority in the Senate, something not expected—and it is not possible that the extreme demands of all have been satisfied. Still, it is very certain from the tenor of the news received, that the new United States tariff is going to embody high protective duties, and the only hope for Argentine interests lies in recriprocity, which will be provided for in some form or other in one of the sections of the Bill, unless we are misinformed.

THE FLORES ELECTRIC TRAMWAY.

EXCURSION OVER THE RAILS.

PROGRESS OF THE WORKS.

Barely two months have elapsed since we had the pleasure of assisting at the ceremony of turning the first sod of this new concern. The rails to-day now stretch out to Flores—which shews the silent rapidity with which the contractors have pushed forward the works. Indeed, the party of gentlemen who, in response to an invitation from Mr. Thursby, General Manager of the Capital Tramway Co., visited the line yesterday, could hardly believe that only two months ago the first sod was turned and the first sleeper laid. "Res non verba" would be an appropriate motto for the new venture.

Yesterday's excursion over the rails afforded a very pleasant matutinal outing. At 9 a.m. a special tram at the corner of Belgrano and Paseo Colon, conveyed the party to the new power and car-house, whose light and attractive steel-work frame gives a certain air of importance to the corner of Calle Comercio. We alighted here to visit the new structure, which, although only begun six weeks ago, is now rapidly approaching completion. Pyramids of sleepers, boilers, pipes, etc., immediately meet the gaze, while a grateful odour of tar regales the olfactory nerves of the visitor, and the noise of hammering and other sounds of activity and work startle the ear. The light and graceful steel frame of the building is almost complete. It has been put up under the direction of Mr. J. M. Clark, representative of the makers, the Berlin Iron Bridge Co., Conn. U.S.A. The walls are of brick, and neat excavations have been made for the boilers, engines and generators, made by the Stirling Boiler Co., U.S.A., whose system of world-wide fame, is now being introduced for the first time here. Mr. Clark is likewise, we believe, the representative of this Company, and it is under his supervision that the machinery will be put up. The rapidity and neatness with which all the pieces of this structure have been put togetherdeserve great credit, and we have no doubt that capitalists will soon find it expedient to run up steel buildings, which economise time, money and space. We find in our notebook that the machinery department is being filled up with economizers and other special devices for securing maximum efficiency. There are to be three engines of 500 h.p. each by the Ball and Wood Co., also a vertical of 175 revolutions per minute, fitted with condensing apparatus and all the other accessories of high class steam plant. This power and car-house covers 1400 sq. metres, and it will be ready and fully equipped in a month's time. The electrical generators are by the Walker Manufacturing Co. of the U. S. A. Each generator will be sufficient for operating 25 cars. Having visited every nook and corner of the place and duly admired the boilers, which are to be located in a few days, we resumed our seat in the car and soon were on our way through the populous south districts. The Flores section begins at Calle Caridad and stretches eight kilometres and a half of double track, solidly laid and straight as an arrow. In this section, the contractors have begun to put up the iron poles for the support of the trolley wire. The poles will be provided with brackets for that purpose. These poles, however, will be limited to the Flores Section. In the inside section the wire will be secured to an eyebolts in the house-walls. Supplementary feeder-wires will be run in an underground conduit, now being laid in Calle Comercio from the power-house to Calle Entre Rios. These feeders are copper wire cables well insulated with india rubber.

It will be seen from the foregoing particulars that the contractors have taken pains to secure the best materials. Indeed, as Mr. McCrosky, the engineer of the Company, informed us, the contractors have chosen only those materials which have proved good upon several thousand miles of similar tramway.

The rails of the Flores section run through a district unknown to most of us, but teeming with population. Building is going on actively on all sides, and we passed near the foundations of a gigantic structure which we were told is to be a Jesuit College. The inhabitants of the district turned out to watch our tram. They did not strike us as being dressed in the pink of fashion, but they are a neat, hard-working lot, and their faces were lit up with bright, honest smiles, as they watched the tram pass. The district swarms with children, whose enthusiasm, at the approach of the car found vent in a variety of comments and in an occasional cheer.

The electric Tram—which will be in service in June—opens up quite a new part of the city, while affording to people in the centre an easy mode of conveyance to Flores. It took 19 minutes for the car to cover the distance between Calle Caridad and the present extremity of the rails in Flores. The service when definitely organized will start from within a square of the Plaza Victoria.

A VOICE FROM JUJUY.

Santa Catalina, April 22nd.
(Province of Jujuy.)

To the Editor of THE STANDARD

A year has now passed since the representative of the London Syndicate and the expert were here, and as yet nothing has been done altho' they promised to be back in September last and also made a contract with the "Compañia Eureka" of Salta in last December, but nothing has come of it yet. Seeing that several companies and syndicates have been formed for other parts of the Argentine this surprises me, as I think this part of the country will compare favourably with any other mining region of the Republic. There are any number of well defined gold bearing quartz lodes which will give from one to three ounces to the ton and several others that will give considerably more. With sufficient capital, adequate machinery, and capable management I calculate that half an ounce to the ton will more than cover expenses. We are not so badly off for water, as we have heavy rains for two or three months in the year when any amount of water could easily be stored in reservoirs. The again we have the Rio Grande about ten miles from the mines, from which 200 to 300 horse power could be obtained and power (by electric transmission) transferred to the mines or the ore carried down to the Rio Grande on wire rope-ways according to which is most economical. That there are some very rich gold quartz veins about I have lately had proof having been shown two pieces of pure gold that were brought into the Rinconada by an Indian and which were undoubtedly cut from the vein. One round piece was 3 ctms. in diameter and 2 ctm. thick and weighed 1¾ ounce, the other was 4 ctms. long by 1¾ ctms. broad and 5 ctm. thick and weighed 1¾ oz. I do not mean to say that these are phenomenal pieces, for even if the wily Indian possessed a ton of gold, he would only sell two or three ounces at a time, and that in several different villages, so it is to be presumed there is much more where this came from and I consider that it shows there are some very rich veins in this district. But companies do not need to go about looking for extraordinary rich veins, for, as I have already mentioned, with the large formal lodes we have here that give from one to three ounces, they have an amply sufficient supply of ore for many years. So, if the syndicate that came last year does not look sharp, I expect some one else will be taking up this part of the country.

AFFAIRS IN SAN LUIS.

NATIONAL TROOPS

DISARMING OF CITIZENS

AWAITING THE INTERVENTION

San Luis continues in a ferment of excitement. Berrondo's men are committing innumerable arbitrary acts by refusing to allow correspondence to be delivered, closing up the Printing offices of "El Pueblo", an opposition organ, and stationing guards of police close to the building. Colonel Suarez, Chief of Police, has even gone so far as to steal horses—using force—from many estancias around the City of San Luis. The owners protested, but to no purpose.

The troops of the line have disbanded 150 men got together and commanded by a certain Domingo Martinez.

The Police in Lujan refuse to deliver the corpse of Loyola to his family, or even to allow deceased's brother, who is in prison, to receive telegrams and letters from his relations. This policy of Berrondo's men has only served to increase popular excitement and bad feeling against him. The Government forces have taken possession of the city, all the civil authorities ceasing in their functions.

Lucero and Martinez, political prisoners, have been set at liberty.

The forces which arrived under Minister Igarzabal and Ventura Dominguez were shortly afterwards disarmed by Colonel Montes de Oca.

The appointment of a National Interventor has been well received, and it is trusted that he will act with complete impartiality. The inhabitants of the city are no longer disturbed by police dashing through the streets all night, and keeping them in a constant state of alarm.

Sympathising friend—Do you think your husband expected to go to heaven?

New Widow—Yes, indeed.

S. F.—What reason have you for thinking so?

N. W.—He was always telling me to go to the other place.

TO THE WEST AND SOUTH TERRITORIES.

As many of our readers are interested in the great zone of land included in the Territories of Chubut and Santa Cruz, we judged it expedient to arrange a sort of interview with Mr. L. Jones, the founder of Chubut Colony, who recently came up by the Villarino, after a three months' journey across and along the territory, knowing that all information coming from such ripe judgment and experience could be relied upon. It appears the journey across the continent this side of the Andes is a tedious affair of 25 or 28 days by waggon, though on horseback it is accomplished in 5 or 6 days, the reason being the hilly, rocky, zig-zagging nature of the road, and the dry stretches without water or pasture.

Question—We believe this was your first trip right across the Territory of Chubut to the Andine chain, practically dividing Chile and Argentina, following the tracks of the Fontana expeditions.

Answer—Yes, though I had a glimpse of the Andine snows many years ago when I made a trip with the Indians to Maquillado, where now is the principal estancia of the Southern Land Co. of 100 leagues more or less; to the south I had made a journey beyond Lago Colhuapi on the extreme limits of our territory, Lat. 46, and to the north beyond our limits of Lat. 42, with incursions hither and thither of the interving country, as also voyage and tramp around Puerto Deseado and Santa Cruz, besides runs up the Rio Negro and Colorado to Bahia Blanca; not to mention the many coasting experiences I have had in my 52 voyages by all manner of craft from a 30 ton "fore and after" to H. B. M.' ships of war.

Q.—Without reference to maps, plans, or charts, could you give us some intelligible division of your great territory that would help investors and the public to grasp the situation and probabilities?

A.—From north to south the territory is four degrees of latitude, say 250 miles, whilst from the sea coast (say about lat. 43) to the Andine chain about "16 de Octubre" it is reckoned at 140 leagues—say 400 miles—but narrowing down to 300 or 250 miles about Lago Colhupi, so 350x250 would give an idea of the area included. Governor Tello gives it at 9,750 square leagues. Nature's division of the territory is the belt of land along the eastern side of the Andes, varying in breadth from 10 to 20 leagues; a midland lower belt, including Teca and Jenna down to the Sin-gyr, with its spurs of Quichaura and Landeniwf; then the mountainous central district forming the chaotic chains and hills, which may be looked upon as our arabia petrea; drawing eastward, still, we come upon the vast and wonderful area of old sea bottoms which Darwin called the beach formation, ending in the present sea coast, but with many breaks and changes and irruptions, the most noteworthy of these being the valleys and lakes of Colhuapi and Otron in the south, the valley of Altars and Indian ford in the centre, and the basaltic, volcanic regions of Telsin to the north.

Q.—Are there any other appreciable distinctions or divisions of the land that would guide investors or estancieros?

A.—The Andine lands from Cholila in the North to the Lake Fontana in the South have a richer vegetation and are wooded, and capable of being cultivated; the second belt, from Waljeina along Teca to Jenna include a lot of cultivable bottom lands, but the hills, right up to the Corcovado and Opele, West, are pasture lands of various degrees and aspects; the several valleys of the Chubut river, as well as the plains of Colhuapi, are available by irrigation, to be made fine farms of, like those of our original colony; the central mountainous zone may become a mineral country, but in pasture and water it is meagre.

Q.—What about the lands along the coast?

A.—It is a matter of "aguadas." Fronting the Gulf of St. George and the abutting peninsula of Santa Elena there are frequent brooks running down the cañadones thereabouts, which would make those parts quite available for sheep, although the soil, being somewhat sandy, it is doubtful whether too many such sheep would not run it very bare before long. The same observation is applicable to the lands obtained by Messrs. Greensheidls, Schelke, Hote, and Fischer. Certainly their aguadas in the "cañadones" would be well sheltered, but some of their sheep-walks in the open would be somewhat exposed, and dry in summer. The bushes at some points would be troublesome to sheep. The grand advantage of having easy shipment for produce is the all-important factor in this matter. The inland country around Teca and Quichaura is infinitely better adapted for sheep, but the cartage of the wool down from thence to a port eats up time and money.

Q.—There was a talk some time ago of marking out 50 leagues for a pastoral colony at Jenna; what has become of that?

A.—Nothing, so far. The Governor says—and very rightly, I think—that the proposed quarter of a league for each "poblador" is not sufficient land in those localities for a man to live upon, and suggests they should be allowed to buy another three quarters; but the real hitch is that the land has to be re-measured and "amojonado" anew, which will take the Government a long while to undertake the "tramite." The land has been ubiquated in the name of Hermann Schlieper and Scheltcher; there are on it actually many thousand head of cattle and sheep belonging to squatters from all parts. I should say 40% of this land could be irrigated, but the drawback is a possibility of inundation at times. Its distance to the sea coast would be less by half than that of 16 de Octubre or Teca.

Q.—What about the project of a tramway to the Altars Valley?

A.—The difficulties are enormous. The only hope for it would be a strategic necessity like that of the Neuquen Railway, for Government to undertake it. As yet neither is there known any practicable pass over the proposed route to Chili, which is an essential point. There is considerable intercourse between our Western slopes and Chile, what with Indians and squatters and cattle drovers. Were the Altars Valley to become chacras like our own, then trade would find some outlet; as yet trade may be said to be confined to wool and Indian barter, which all comes down our way.

Q.—Then how do you read the barometric prospects of the far West country?

A.—Thus: the bulk of the land has been purchased with the Rio Negro certificates at prices varying from $1000 to $3,000 per league. Except the Quichaura estancia, all preferable lands are occupied and squatted upon by "agenos," that is to say Tom, Dick, or Harry, who let their cattle roam over them: the "contribucion directa" which the owners are supposed to pay, being a mere bagatelle for "absentee landlords." who sit down to wait for "unearned increment." The practic al test of the intrinsic worth of the lands is the number of sheep per league which they will maintain, but as there is such an immense elbow room, as yet it is difficult to arrive at a satisfactory average. But what handicaps the whole prospect is the great distance and difficult travelling to any market, except that of the sea coast. Jenna in that respect is better off, but its camps are not so good as those of Teca, Quichaura, or the western limits (which I should call Kaffir "colindados.") The further you go west the better the camp, but they are terribly remote and inaccessible: for some time they will be a lottery to be boomed or pricked.

Q.—What became of the proposal to bring fresh water by canal into Port Madryn?

A.—The survey and plans were duly made, and are under consideration of Government. Length of canal will be 40 leagues, over very good camp, once the fertilizing element is brought within reach of it; the water comes from limpid streams on basaltic bottom, at an altitude of 500 metres. No money is asked of Government for making the works, but simply a tract of land in the vicinity or elsewhere. The scheme if carried out will transform a desert into smiling vineyards and altalfares, and make a sanitary haven of the port for our great ironclads.

Q.—Governor Tello is urging on Government the advisability of forming a great agricultural colony around Lago Colhuapi; does the idea find favour with you?

A.—Certainly. Governor Fontana and I mooted such an undertaking eight or nine years ago, but the Grünbein concession turned up a "dog in the manger" difficulty. We could put any number of emigrants on it, as the place is advantageously within reach of the coast. As a genuine new departure Governor Tello is quite right in asking precedence for such a scheme; but there is always some "snag up" with Government when anything practical like this is proposed.

LA PLATA.

(From our own correspondent.)

May 4th.

The Senate met to-day, when 14 members put in an appearance. Messrs. Jacinto Peralta Ramos, Mariano J. Pereyra, and Marcos Sastre took the usual oath on becoming Senators. Mr. Falcon then proposed that the House should not meet until next Tuesday, as the Chamber of Deputies will only do so next Friday. The House then rose.

Dr. Berra, Director General of Schools, has started on a tour of inspection of all the schools in the Province.

The body of Mrs. Santina M. de Golfarelli, who disappeared while on board the Venus on the 29th ult. was found to-day in the river off Quilmes. The disappearance of this lady was only noticed when the steamer reached Buenos Aires.

SPORT.

BUENOS AIRES LAWN TENNIS CLUB.

We remind our readers who may be interested in this Club's Annual Open Tournament and Championship meeting, that the entries for same will close on Monday next, 10th inst. at noon, and in spite of the Committee, so we are told, being very pleased at the number of entries received to date, we insert these lines in order that intending players, who may have forgotten the date fixed for closing of entries, may not be left out in the cold.

GOLF.

The first of a series of club handicap competitions to be held by the B. A. Golf Club will take place at Catalinas on Sunday 9th inst.

The winner will gain a memento and the honor of being one of four to play for the Club's splendid silver and oak challenge shield, which was presented to the club by the President Mr. Jason Rigby.

Entries may be made to either the Captain Mr. C. Smith, Secretary, Mr. G. T. Cripps, or to any member of committee. Must be sent in at latest by Friday evening.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

The first game will take place on Sunday next the 9th inst at Lomas at 2.30 p.m. Sides will be picked on the ground, and all interested in the game are invited to play.

Players should catch the 1.15 p.m. train from Constitucion.

On behalf of the Yacht Club our neighbours Messrs. Moore and Tudor received yesterday afternoon a wire from London reporsing the purchase of the yachts "Doris" and "Daphne" which are now in course of shipment. In another month therefore the fleet of the club will be increased by two handsome and useful craft.

We understand that two new yacht of larger size than any here so far are being ordered for members desirous of having comfortable cruisers that will admit of sea trips.

The Rambler which entered the Tigre on Sunday is being got ready for a cruise up the Brazilian coast which will probably extend several weeks. For some time past the fortunate owners have been studying the charts very closely, as such a cruise demands every care in pilotage and navigation.

RAILWAY AND OTHER ITEMS.

The Buenos Ayres and Rosario Railway Company, having completed the bridge they had been constructing at kilometre 1014 the line is now open for passenger and goods traffic.

CONGRESS.

THE SENATE

The preparatory sitting was held yesterday, 16 members being present. General Roca and Dr. Galvez were respectively elected first and second president.

The only other business transacted was the approval of the election, as Senator for Salta, of Mr. Leguizamon who at once took the customary oath and assumed his seat.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Everybody was "as cross as two sticks"—as they say in Green Erin—yesterday, thanks to those "dos cosas malas", the North wind and dust. "Evening's best light," however, was more agreeable than "the wild freshness of morning," as regards personal comfort, and the deluge of rain at 7 p.m. was an immense relief to the whole population. There was no news of a kind calculated to cause apoplexy or sudden death in any shape. Although the poor Greeks are putting on a bold face in the field, they must soon cry for peace from the victorious Moslem. They are bankrupt, and they cannot get a red cent to carry on the war. Already, the supplies of food and ammunition for the army at the front are running short; so peace cannot be very far off. Yesterday's wire about the Turks asking for an armistice is officially denied, and may be put down as a deliberate telegraphic lie.

Yesterday afternoon there occurred in Paris a catastrophe which, for its magnitude, the awful circumstances attending it and the rank of the victims, has never in modern times been equalled in the civilized world.

A charity bazaar organised and attended by the very elite of the French Capital was suddenly wrapt in flames, the inflammable nature of the fancy articles in the stalls feeding the conflagration with fearful rapidity. The immense concourse, principally composed of delicately nurtured women and children, seized by the firepanic—that most dreadful and ghastly of all emotions—immediately rushed for the doors and in their agony of terror ruthlessly trampled on one another. In a moment of time the gaily dressed throng of Princesses, Duchesses and the flower of the French aristocracy, mingled with hundreds of delicate children, became one seething struggling mass.

The mind reels and becomes awe-stricken when it attempts to realize what must have occurred, and turns with sickening horror from the thought of the fearful agony, both mental and physical, which must have seized on the unfortunate and innocent victims of the catastrophe. Enough—the visions which rise to one's mind are too awful. Though every man and woman's life is equal in the sight of God, the feeling of of horror is nevertheless intensified by the fact that those who perished in the hecatomb would naturally be supposed, from their riches and rank, to be exempted from such an awful fate. The lesson is one that must not be lost. Are our halls here in Buenos Aires so provided with facilities for exit, such as wide portals opening outwards and in adequate numbers, to prevent the possibility of a like fate befalling us under similar circumstances?

The army and navy are still in a white heat of excitement about Mr. Villanueva's successor in the War Office. The amiable and temporizing Chief Magistrate, instead of being able to put his finger on the best man for the post in half a minute, has asked Dr. Quirno Costa to take the War Office in hand for a few days, to give him time to don his considering cap.

Our old and respected friend Mr. Lewis Jones, founder of the Welsh colony at Chubut, leaves Southward Ho! to-day, and we wish him a pleasant trip and speedy return to his friends here. In another column will be found particulars of an interview with him as regards the prospects of the Great South.

Viva! Friday next, the 7th inst., has been fixed for the opening of Congress. We're sorry for it. Friday is an unlucky day on which to begin anything—Congress, "casamientos," or commercial transactions. We're awfully superstitious.

The new Austrian Minister, Prince de Wreyde, will present his credentials to President Uriburu to-morrow.

The Commissioners of the National Exhibition have decided to erect the building on Paseo Julio, between Tucuman and Cangallo, not the best site, in our opinion.

The news from the respective Boundary Commissioners in Chile is that they have agreed to hurry on the "hito" business and finish it off next year. (What about the Pax Multa arbitration of her Majesty the Queen?) To this end the "peritos" will ask their respective Governments to name three more Sub-Commissions.

There are a host of candidates, civil and military, for the War portfolio. Last night, Dr. Civit, Finance Minister of Mendoza, was again spoken of.

The outcry against the Central Railway station scandal is becoming louder every day, and this question will soon assume the place of the famous Hole in the Mole a quarter of a century ago. The passengers to the north suburbs last night were drenched to the skin. The course taken by the National Government in this matter is downright disgraceful, and a slur on the civilization of the country.

A subscriber would like to do business with the party at General Dorrego who offers partridges ("martinetas") at 15 cents each. He is requested to send his address to this office.

We had the pleasure of a visit yesterday from Mr. Charles Sanford, of S. B. Hale and Co, who is looking younger than ever. He has returned to look after the interests of the Santa Fè Bondholders during this session of Congress. He says that all the heart-broken sorrow at Dr. Romero's return to private life is confined to Berlin and Antwerp. In London they are quite resigned, and consider that nothing serious will hoppen to the world at large through the fall of the Use-of-credit financier.

There was a buzz—saw feeling in the wide circle of friends of a good many of the functionaries of the City Salubrity Works yesterday. Our tremendous colleague La Prensa set the saw going by denouncing a pretty little string of most insalubrious—smelling abuses in the office named, which have been denounced by the clerks therein, who have given our contemporary names and, better still, proofs, so the public may prepare for a rousing and rasping scandal. The parties are accused of stealing and selling, or appropriating to their own use, coal, oil, brass, and all kinds of materials belonging to the Works.

We had the great pleasure yesterday of a visit from our old and highly valued friend, Commodore Ferguson, the popular agent of Messrs. Lamport and Holt in Rosario. He positively seems younger and fresher every time we have the pleasure of seeing him, and will soon get back to boyhood again, if he doesn't look sharp.

The newest Parisian fad is something a trifle too utter. What do you think it is, readers? Peruse the following extract from an exchange and shudder:—"In France "all things are possible and most probable," and when a reputable journal tells us that "books bound in the skins of departed friends'" are popular just now in the gay capital, it will not do to be too sceptical. The inventor of such a fad must be the possessor of an abnormal intellect. It is difficult to imagine a modern Damon finding consolation for the loss of Pythias in a volume bound in the cuticle of the late lamented latter, and we are unable to conceive of a friendship so ardent and enduring as not to be satisfied with remembering its object unaided by so realistic a reminder." But the fad; if it exists at all, does so quite independent of personal association. The authority already quoted proceeds to inform us that it extends to cigarette cases, pocket-books and prayer books made of the skins of notorious criminals, Of all things—prayer books!

"Straws show which way the wind blows" is an old saying, and here is a straw from a prominent New York commercial daily of the last week of March, when Gral. Weyler was informing the world that the Cuban rebellion was about finished:—"Two prominent export houses, doing business with the southern part of Cuba, received cable advices on Saturday that on account of the closing of the leading shops in the city of Santiago de Cuba, they were obliged to cancel orders they had sent for hardware, dry goods and other merchandise. It is expected that provisions only will be shipped to the south side of the island for some time to come."

The Revd. Dr. Smith A.M., arrived yesterday from Colonia B.O. At the service he conducted at the Estanzuela on Sunday last he had one of the largest congregations he has ever had there, over 70 people, who assembled from a radius of ten leagues round. The Colorados, or Government troops, have swept the camps bare of everything. The Revd. gentleman will preach on Sunday the 16th inst, at the Cabaña, district of Cañuelas; and this will be his last visit to his flock in the camp till smiling Spring comes round again.

Ladies, are you all going off your shapely heads? We very much fear that you are, when we read the following short paragraph in a fashion paper:—"Hand-painted petticoats are the newest fashion of the day, but the easily acquired mud circle will still hold the fort with women who won't wear the garment three inches short of the ground."

The 'time' of the aesthetic Oscar has expired, and he no longer wears the Dartmoor uniform. The moment he was liberated he vanished to Florence. He has changed terribly during his two year's imprisonment, looks twice his real age, is stooped like an old man, and is as thin as a whipping post.

There was a disgraceful free-shooting affair in the law courts in Rosario on Monday, when four litigants whipped out their revolvers and let fly at Dr. Joseph Fierro, but they were all such bad shots that his doctorship escaped unhurt. In return the doctor took steady aim at one of them and hit him in the head, but no coffin will be required. Political and social unpleasantness is said to be at the bottom of this business.

We laughed yesterday on reading in our latest financial exchanges the full text of Mr. Frank Parish's speech at the general meeting of the Great Southern Railway, in the course of which he crisply alluded to the full—payment of interest programme of the National Government, characterizing it as a "rather luxurious way of settling accounts." There is a deal of quiet humour in this happy remark.

We find the following amusing 1st-of-April joke in the South American Journal:—"On Tuesday last the Daily Mail published a sensational article stating that it had been discovered that a Chilian warship had been surreptitiously embarking war materials in the West India Dock in cases marked "Pickles". A circumstantial account was given of the action of the dock authorities ordering the vessel out of the dock, whilst the munitions were said to be confiscated. It now appears that Mr. Harmsworth's sprightly little paper has been the victim of a belated 1st of April hoax, and that the whole story was a complete "canard", invented by some of the peripatetic contributors to our contemporary's entertaining, newsy columns. The ignorance of the writer may be estimated by his hinting that the munitions were intended to be used in a war between Chili and Perú. The Commander of the Angamos asked the Daily Mail to rectify its blunder, and in Thursday's issue there appeared a sort of retractive article, written in the humorous style characteristic of that paper, in which they say that their contributor was misled by confounding Chili with "chillies", and so led by association to pickles."

It is really curious, and quite flattering for us, to see how our potent, grave and reverend financial colleagues in London enjoy the columns of the B. A. STANDARD. Some months ago we received a kind subscription to our larder, in the shape of an Argentine ham, and announced our intention of having it next day at dinner with boiled turkey and celery sauce. On this the Financial News very kindly congratulated us and hoped we enjoyed our dinner, which we most certainly did. Now we read that our excellent colleague The Journal of Finance finds our columns an infallible cure for the blue-devils. This is what it says: —"Whenever we are feeling more than usually discontented with our lot, and pining for something that will distract our thoughts from the paltry commonplaces which go to make up the life of the average journalist, we always turn to our irrepressible, contemporary, the B.A. STANDARD, for relief. Last week we were in this condition, and our usual source of comfort did not fail us. Despondency gave way to hilarity as we read the following:—"The bears nearly succeeded to-day in driving the premium back on the Rubicon. But that they were a bit lifeless and faint-hearted in the attack, they would have done so, as, with the 304 broken from the very start, the bullish position was very ticklish. Had the bears made a grand demonstration all along the line, thrown in some heavy shell to let the bulls see what was coming, and then charged right home with the cavalry, infantry, and artillery and baggage all massed, the day would have been theirs for a certainty, the Rubicon forced, the smashed-up horse and foot fleeing helter-skelter, disorganised, routed, and shamed. The blessed contango would be their worst foe, impeding their movements and hampering their flight." And yet there be individuals who contend that the "City Article" affords no scope for literary talent!"

Special Notice.

Gold Premium

FIRST RING..... 193.00
SECOND RING..... 191.00

It is quite evident that the bulls can make no headway against the current of fall. Every day they expect to see the turn come, and as often only meet with disappointment, from which the disjointed state of opinion can be easily gathered. And it is not that there is any pressure from outside at work. Speculation is inert, to all intents and purposes, and even the bears seem afraid to operate for dates, so that if there be an extraneous pressure or influence, it must be taking the shape of cash gold. But as far as it is permitted to judge from the state of the market, the fall is quite guiltless in this respect, that is to say, it is only unnatural in that it is at variance with opinion, and if it were not that things look very gloomy for the winter, there would be no apprehension of revulsion. In this regard we may state that in official quarters gold is still looked upon as dear. One consideration should naturally be made for the fact that the Minister is actually pulsing the situation watch in hand, timing the beats, whilst the market has only the outward symptoms to judge from; but equally is it manifest that these symptoms are unmistakably bad. It is all very well to say gold is dear; it is very right and proper to forge hopes based on careful administration and rigid economy. But when all is said and done, we have in prospect the "resumption" budget in all its entirety, a commercial crisis that must mean a great restriction in imports, anda significant falling off in exports. It would be a great relief to think that the vitality of the country is equal to the emergency, and that it will be superior to all difficulty eventually there can be little doubt, but meantime there is the winter to be got through, with impaired resources and failing means. It is the present not the future that gives life to apprehension.

Business was practically so dull in gold at the first hour that the total ran considerably short of the million, rates drifting downwards from 294, the opening rate, to close at 293 sellers. A point pass was paid for end of month. For June and July there was practically no interest. After the hour the drift still held on with the result that at 1.30 p.m. there was gold offering at 292.30. In stocks Catalinas were rather firmer, and a fair batch of National F's changed hands at 86 ¼, which shows a rally of 1 point. Some Santa Fé Consols were done at 89.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the first ring to-day:—

A gentleman closely connected with the leading London bankers and just arrived, informs us that financial opinion in the world's great money-market has veered round in favor of Argentina. At a moment when the Greek crisis caused all stocks to fall, Argentines held out firm, and even rose. With regard to the Conversion of Argentine loans, our informant states that in the opinion of the bankers closely connected with Argentina there is a conviction that this country will be in a position to undertake that operation under advantageous conditions three years hence. In London they have great hopes that General Roca will be the next President and that he will reorganize the country financially and politically. Argentina is gaining favor daily, and in stock breeding-circles is now dubbed "Wonderland." Our informant, who has been some months away, states that he finds the bustle of B. Ayres greater than ever, and that there is nothing like it outside London and New York.

We note that the 14 flour mills at Minneopolis, U. S., that were running on 16th March last, had a total capacity of 43,540 barrels of 196 pounds each per day, and as the product for the previous week reached 257,090 barrels, they must have been running to nearly their full capacity. The prices prevailing on the same day a year ago show a considerably higher value for this year. We reproduce the table from the North Western Miller, a handsomly gotten up publication, that published a series of articles fully describing and illustrating Argentine mill interests about a year ago.

Car load lots	Per 196 pounds Tuesday — $	Year ago — $
First patent in wood	3.75 to 4.10	3.15 to 3.40
Second patent in wood	3.65 to 3.85	3.00 to 3.20
Straight in wood	3.60 to 3.75	no sales
Fancy clear in wood	3.05 to 3.35	2.40 to 2.60
Second clear in logs	1.70 to 2.20	1.40 to 1.70
Low grade in logs	1.40 to 1.75	no sales
Red Dog in logs	90 to 95	95 to 1.00

The following is typical of what is to be found at almost every turn and corner in our exchange since the Full Payment was officially annunced:—

Sir;

"Doubtless you have seen and perused the letter addressed to Lord Rothschild in the Times of the 31st ult. (which I enclose). The Times hopes that "the Republic, having experienced the benefits of good credit, will never do anything to cause distrust of its financial position." The Times expresses the views of all interested in Argentine loans; but what I look at is the "Ananias" conduct of the Argentine Government. The 1872, 1886, and 1888 Buenos Ayres loans issued by the well-known firms, viz., Messrs. Baring Bros. and Co. Messrs Morton, Rose and Co., are not mentioned in the letter addressed by Senhor Luis L. Dominguez to Lord Rothschild; but when I reflect that these loans were issued by the firms I have already mentioned, and that the security for the payment of interest and drawn bonds was based on the security of judicial deposits, patents, stamp duties, income tax, harbour dues, sales of public land, and surplus revenues of the railways and general revenues of the province. I think I may fairly ask Sr. Luis L. Dominguez what has become of these revenues, and why are the unfortunate bondholders still to remain out in the cold? In the face of the letter of the distinguished gentleman, Sr. Luis L. Dominguez, there is no doubt that the Argentine Government will seek a new loan, and I can only hope that it will be an unsuccessful effort to obtain money from the already too-confiding public of all nations. Every Stock Exchange ought to reprehend the disgraceful conduct of the Argentine Government; and, in conclusion, I say, "Be honest, my Argentine Government, but do not make the very grave and great mistake of being 'half honest.'"

I am, yours faithfully.

The Scalded Cat.

The Villarino leaves Darsena Sud to-morrow for Port Madryn with a Southern party. Among her passengers is Mr Lewis Jones, the founder of the Chubut Colony, who goes for a short trip and will return by the steamer Rio Santa Cruz this same month. The Villarino takes a great crowd of passengers.

Consignees report the wool market very dull, and likely to remain so, from the class of wool in deposit and departure of buyers. In the French packet most of those still remaining have booked berths, so that we are likely to see very little movement in the market now. The stock is estimated at about 5 million kilos. Dry hides are reported rather firmer, and there is fair demand for sheepskins. In cereals wheat keeps very hard, which holds out little hope of any move in exportation, and maize is quiet.

Mr Nicanor Repetto is making out the title-deeds for the Banco de Ambures; buyer of the 374,666 hectares in the Santa Cruz territory. These lands formed part of a concession that the late Mr. A. Grünbein obtained from Congress. The Bank of Antwerp pays 249,159 $ gold.

Southern railway shareholders will find in our advt. column a notice about payment of dividend for ½ year ending December 31st. Such notices are ever welcome.

The bottom of the gold tub was seriously threatened at the second hour. The King walked into the ring and banged away all he could place at almost any price, which put the seal on the collapse, and though the rate left off at 291, there were sellers at 290 after the hour, with ½ to 1 point pass for end of month. There can be little doubt that the message is at the foot of this slump It is an open secret that the Finance Minister will be able to shew an exceedingly favorable balance-sheet, and the market has discounted this. Still the market is not convinced that the premium is on the right track, and thus, though even the bulls are making the fall, it is only to turn round when they think the flow has reached high water mark. It is curious at the same time that there should be little or no excitement, which shews that the market has not got its heart in the business, or, as Cousin Jonathan would say, its "back" in the fall. However, there it is, a palpable fact, and every day finds the weakness more pronounced. In stocks National F's were again dealt in at 86 ¼ to 86.80, and it is reported orders have come out to buy. Obligations were weak and Catalinas steady.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares at the second ring:—

We have received in pamphlet form the formidable protest entered at the Home Secretary's Office by the Central Argentine Railway to the decree ordering the removal of the lines from Central to Retiro at end of this month The protest is based on the terms of the concession, and roundly denies the right of the Executive to interfere with existing conditions without referring the matter to Congress. That the stoppage of the service to Central will cause untold, enormous inconvenience to passengers all along the various lines goes without saying; and it is very probable that many business men will have to come into town. This would mean, of course, a severe loss for the companies, much more than the advantage to be derived by the port from uninterrupted communication with the city. Opinion does not agree with the high-handed course taken by the Government in this matter, and the worst of it is that with the sword still impending, the conditions of the Central Station at present are shocking, no light, no cleanliness. All this should be seen to.

We have also received in pamphlet form the annals of the Entre Rios Rural Society, which we shall look into at leisure and draw upon for data as to conditions of agriculture and stock-breeding in that province. The pamphlet is exceedingly well got up, practical and to the point. The losses in the crops from 1894 to 1897 are calculated at $65,313.720, of which wheat represents over a half.

The memoria or report of the Sala de Comercio del Once, as usual, is a very important and interesting document, being a conscientious and intelligent study of our national products, and observations tending to improve them by amelioration of the conditions. With regard to wool, the report stamps the clip as inferior to that of previous year, shorter in staple and more run with seed, the best lots on the average having been those from Gral. Villegas, Pinto and Lincoln camps. The Entre Rios wools have not been up to the mark, heavy and defective, which has also been the case with those from Patagones and the Colorado. The fall in price is set down at 10 to 12 %, to which must be added a difference for the decline in gold, which would make the fall about 20%. The Report calculates that the clip has given about 51,000 bales more than in previous year for export, thus:

	Bales
For United States	46,000
" Europe	450,000
To be shipped	15,000
	511,000

We shall give other data from the Report later on.

With regard to the export figures published in our last issue, we should state, to account for the great disparity between those of last year and this as regards live-stock, that in last year's returns are included all exports, whilst this year's are confined to shipments only.

According to reliable estimates the output of wine in Mendoza and San Juan is 300,000 bordalesas, of which Mendoza claims two thirds. Prices are given at $27 to 30 the hectolitre, put in cask at Mendoza Station.

Fundings are quoted in London at 86. The Commercial cables give combed B wool at 86-7 ½ francs, tinsseed at 29s. 3d., maize 13s. 9d., and wheat 28s. 6d.

Messrs. Salazar Bros. have purchased 10,000 mestizo Lincoln wethers in the Pampa Central, Pehuajó and the San Bernardo colony at reserved price.

A new system of financing, complete in one volume, easy to learn, difficult to forget. Cables from Asuncion report that Mr. Cañete, the Minister of Finance, proposes an emission of Treasury Bills to cover the whole expenditure fixed by the Budget. This obviates the solemn severity of tedious waiting on the revenue. The wonder is that such a brilliant, feasible idea has never struck financiers before. The recipients of course will be only too gl— That's the point: will they? What will the Bills be worth? Who will discount them?

The specie movement yesterday was:—

" Bremen..... $712 "

KEATING'S LOZENGES.
KEATING'S LOZENGES.
"A Simple Fact about" KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES. Ask through the world, in any country that can be named, you will find them largely sold. There is absolutely no remedy that is so speedy in giving relief, so certain to cure and yet the most delicate can take them.
"A TERRIBLE COUGH."
"A TERRIBLE COUGH."
"94 Commercial Road, Peckham, July 12
"Dear Sir,—I am a poor hand at expressing my feelings, but I should like to thank you. Your lozenges have done wonders in relieving my terrible cough. Since I had the operation of 'Tracheotomy' (the same as the late Emperor of Germany, and unlike him, thank God, I am still alive) performed at St. Bartholomew's Hospital, no one could possibly have had a more violent cough it was so bad at times that it quite exhausted me. The mucus which was very copious and hard, has been softened, and I have been able to get rid of it without difficulty.—I am, sir, yours truly, J. HILL
UTTERLY UNRIVALLED.
UTTERLY UNRIVALLED.
The above speaks for itself. From strict inquiry it appears that the benefit from using Keating's Cough Lozenges is understated. The operation was a specially severe one, and was performed by the specialist, Dr. L. I. Buttin, of St. Bartholomew's Hospital. Since the operation the only means of relief is the use of these Lozenges. So successful are they that one affords immediate benefit although from the nature of the case the throat irritation is intense.
WEIGHT IN GOLD.
WEIGHT IN GOLD.
Under date Sept. 5th. 1891, Mr. Hill again writes:—"I should long since have been dead but for your Lozenges—they are worth their weight in gold. I will gladly are and tell anyone what a splendid cough remedy they are."
Keating's Cough Lozenges, the unrivalled remedy for Coughs, Hoarseness, and Throat Troubles, are sold in Tins and Bottles by all Chemists.
